Uconomix InfoBox is a lightweight and useful application that was created in order to help you safeguard passwords, login information and any sensitive data that is for your eyes only. The program creates encrypted boxes where you can add the information you want to protect. Managing the boxes is a breeze thanks to a very clean and easy to use interface. Once you have completed the setup procedure, you can add passwords, links to logins and sensitive information to the boxes. The data will be protected with a strong encryption algorithm. You can also search for information in the boxes using different criteria such as names, initials or any other information that is relevant for your data. Uconomix InfoBox Key Features: Key Features: Boxes: The program allows you to create and manage boxes that are password protected and can contain any type of information. Tables: Data is represented by tables where you can search or sort it as you wish. Views: The program allows you to display your data in multiple ways; lists, grids, tables, folders and tree views. Advanced Search: You can search for items by any field. Backup: The program is equipped with a built-in backup feature. The boxes can be backed up in order to ensure the protection of the data even if you lose it or it is corrupted. How to Use: After downloading, unzip the archive and open the folder. Double click the icon "InfoBoxSetup.exe" in order to run the installation. When the installation wizard is complete, click Next to set up the program. A standard set of programs will be installed on your computer. A warning will display that the installation will delete the pre-existing configuration file on your computer. Click Yes to confirm. Finally, click Finish to complete the installation. You can now start using Uconomix InfoBox for free!
